

The deposition of Ann Putnam ^{junr} who testifies and saith that on the 13th March 1692
I saw the Apparition of goodby Nuss: and she did immediately affect me but I did not know what her name was then: tho I knew where she used to sit in our meeting house: but since that she hath grievously afflicted me by biting pinching and pricking me: urging me to writ in her book and also on the 24th of March being the day of her examination
I was grievously tormented by her during the time of her examination and also several times since and also during the time of her examination I saw the Apparition of Deborah Nuss goe and hurt the bodies of misryls Mary Wickett Elizabeth Hubbard and Abigail Williams.
Ann Putnam Junr: did on the oath which she hath taken this her evidens to be the truth. In faith we her:
Jurors for Inquest this 3rd of June: 1692

Jurat in Curia

(Deposition of Ann Putnam, Jr. v. Rebecca Nurse)

[June 3, 1692]

The Deposition of Ann putnam junr who testifieth and saith that on the 13'th march 1691/92 I saw the Apperishton of gooddy Nurs: and she did immediatly afflict me but I did not know what hir name was then: tho I knew whare she used to sitt in our Meeting house: but sence that she hath greviously afflicted me by biting pinching and pricking me: urging me to writ in hir book and also on the 24'th of march being the day of hir examination I was greviously tortured by hir dureing the time of hir examination and also severall times sence and also dureing the time of hir examination I saw the Apperishton of Rebekah nurs goe and hurt the bodys of Mircy lewes mary wolcott Elizabeth Hubbrd and Abigaill Williams .

ann putnam jun'r did one the oath which she hath taken: this har evidens to be the truth. before us the: Juriers for Inquest this 3. d'y of June: 1692

Jurat in Curia

(Reverse) Ann puttnam
Goody Nurs

(Essex County Court Archives, Salem -- Witchcraft Vol. 1, no. 81, Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court, Judicial Archives, Massachusetts State Archives. Boston, MA.)